

PAO PAMAKI

SINGER • SONGWRITER • VOCALIST • MUSICIAN

ABOUT ME

Pao Pamaki is a Bali-based multi-instrumentalist, singer-songwriter, vocalist, teacher and music producer known for her soulful presence and magnetic live performances. Her work is rooted in somatic awareness and inspired by the years she spent immersed in Indigenous traditions across South America. Her music channels gratitude, reverence and the magic of ceremony.

Her concert invites you to experience a world medicine music journey that takes you deep into presence and joy, traversing rhythms, languages and improvisation. Sharing her original compositions alongside traditional music from cultures that have touched her heart, Pao offers music as a prayer, a celebration of life and a way to remember what truly matters.

“Her concerts are not just performances, they are living rituals, rich in beauty and connection”

FEELINGS

"Your voice cracked my heart open so many times when I needed it, releasing tears and welcoming me back into a strong feeling of faith. Your music truly helps me on my personal journey."

"I arrived just as you started singing the Yawanawa prayer and it took me so deep inside myself. It was one of the most powerful moments of the week. Thank you."

"What you did in the Sound Temple was a special kind of magic. So patient, so faithful to the music, so powerful. You got out of the way and let the music sing for itself."

"Pao's music feels like medicine to me. Her songs speak directly to my heart and awaken something ancient, visceral and deeply familiar. Her music doesn't just reach my ears, it reaches my soul."

"This was a huge highlight for me. Thank you for your sweet voice, generosity, creativity and grace."
